Medal of Honor Recipient Harvey Barney Barnum (USMC-Vietnam) speaks to a crowd at the Reston Region Library in Virginia, and then autographs copies of the new book Medal of Honor-Portraits of Valor Beyond the Call of Duty. The book by Peter Collier and Nick Del Calzo was released on Veterans Day 2004, and features photos and stories of 116 of the living recipients of the Medal of Honor. Release of the book was followed by weeks of personal public appearances by the recipients featured, at libraries and bookstores around the nation. Courtesy of The Fairfax County Public Library

“Let the word go forth from this time and place to friend and foe alike, that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans—born in this century, tempered by war, disciplined by a hard and bitter peace, proud of our ancient heritage—and unwilling to witness or permit the slow undoing of those human rights to which this nation has always been committed and to which we are committed today at home and around the world.”

President John F. Kennedy

The Congressional Medal of Honor Society is the organization, chartered by Congress, that is the official representative of the recipients of the Medal of Honor. You can contact individual recipients, ask questions, and obtain information directly from the CMOH Society.
